

A large, ornate chandelier with a central vertical pole and multiple arms extending horizontally, each holding a lamp with a white shade. The chandelier is made of polished brass and features a decorative finial at the top and a matching base. The arms are curved and hold five lamps in total, with two on each side and one in the center of each side. The lamp shades are white and conical. The chandelier is shown against a plain white background.

Weight: 13 Pounds

